Bio

Cayla Ravancho is a Law Clerk at Keating, Bucklin & McCormack, Inc. Prior to joining the firm, Cayla worked for nearly a decade in the communications and project management field. During law school, Cayla worked in civil defense for housing initiatives and successfully co-trying a bench trial at King County Prosecuting Attorney's Office. In addition, Cayla completed a judicial externship with the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington for The Honorable Kate Vaughan.

Cayla graduated cum laude from Seattle University Law School where she served as the Moot Court Board Judicial Relations Chair, Flex JD Representative for the Student Bar Association, and as a founding member of the Filipino Law Student Association. Before earning her J.D. degree, Cayla graduated summa cum laude from San Jose State University where she received her Master's of Communication Studies.

Outside of the law school, Cayla volunteers as a strength training coach, serves on the board for Choose 180, and volunteers for the George Pocock Rowing foundation.
